Depression is Treatable. Suicide is Preventable.

April 6, 2006 I became not only a mother and wife but a "survivor of suicide". My son, Scott, at the age of 16 completed suicide. My passion in life has now become the voice of my son and others who think that there is no help and they are alone in their internal battle. So will you please come and walk or run for those who have decided that they no longer can? If you are committed to our message, but not quite ready for a 3.1 mile run/walk, we also have an easy 1 mile walk.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the education of our youth about suicide prevention in the Defiance County area schools. We need to let them know it is better to "lose that friendship than a friend".

Proceeds used to fund local programming and awareness in all Defiance County School Districts.
